

Air Travel Enjoyed by Younasters

Airplane travel is old stuff to the three young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cobb, 3536 W. 187th st., Torrance. The youthful travelers, Ellen, age eight, Linda, age six, and Jeanette, age four, recently flew to Chicago with their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Burman, of that city. Following a six week visit in the windy city, Linda, the six year old, came home by herself on one of the major airlines. She thoroughly enjoyed her flight, and a week later was followed by her two sisters who, they admitted, got a little airsick. The seasoned travelers were quite proud of their travels, but declared that they were glad to be back home with their parents.
